Dear Parent/Guardian,

Now your child is moving into year 11, they will begin to study their final Literature text: a play by William Shakespeare.

We have found that having a personal copy of the text allows students to have a better learning experience. With this, students can annotate, helping to make it an invaluable resource when revising for their exam. Possessing a copy of the text also encourages students to be autonomous in their studies and engages them in the academic routines that are vital for success in further education. With this in mind, we would strongly advise you to purchase, or source second-hand, the following texts over the summer:

Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare (Cambridge School Shakespeare) 2014 ISBN: 9781107615403

Romeo and Juliet: York Notes for GCSE (York Notes) 2015 ISBN: 1447982231

Please note that the school will provide the texts and revision guides for those students who qualify for financial support.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions about English.

Yours faithfully,

Miss C. Bird
